SUBJECT: 2014 City of Austin Community Survey Final Report

The 2014 City of Austin Community Survey Final Report is now available on the City's website at the following link: https://assets.austintexas.gov/budget/14-15/downloads/2014_AustinDF_Final_Report.pdf. In addition, the Appendices document, which looks at survey responses based on several demographic variables, including usage of various citizen services, is also online here: https://assets.austintexas.gov/budget/14-15/downloads/2014_AustinDF_Survey_Appendices_Report.pdf.

Austin's Community Survey provides resident satisfaction data on a variety of both city services and quality of life issues. The report also provides benchmarking information comparing Austin's results to other large cities and an importance-satisfaction analysis comparing resident priorities to community satisfaction. The report and appendices provide information that can assist with strategic and budgetary planning.

If you need a hard copy in addition to the electronic version, please contact Shannon Szymczak at Shannon.Szymczak@austintexas.gov.
